Summary

Marketing and communications coordinator with 12+ years planning and delivering integrated campaigns, content and stakeholder communications across sport, ecommerce and technology — including a Master of Marketing.

I coordinate complex, market-facing projects end-to-end: turning research, data and customer insight into marketing plans and messaging; briefing and managing content, creative and campaign delivery across owned, earned and paid channels; and building productive relationships with stakeholders across departments, teams and external partners. I've built a digital function from scratch inside a large organisation, run integrated campaigns for events and product launches, and balanced competing priorities across marketing, commercial and operational teams without ever missing a deadline.

Targeted fit for this role

- Research & Data-Informed Planning: Use desktop research, analytics and customer insight to inform marketing strategy, planning and campaign decisions — turning data into a clear point of view rather than just a report.
- Coordinating Complex Projects: Proven record coordinating complex, market-facing projects to deadline and quality standard — from digital campaigns and product launches to full customer journey rebuilds.
- Communication Across Audiences: Strong verbal and written communicator, tailoring messaging for executives, technical teams, customers and the public — copywriting, campaign messaging, stakeholder briefings and reporting.
- Professionalism & Integrity: A track record of working to a high ethical standard across client, employer and partner relationships, including sensitive employment and compliance matters handled professionally and discreetly.
- Coordinating Tasks & Stakeholders: Comfortable running multiple concurrent workstreams and stakeholder groups at once, collaborating with internal teams to deliver on strategic projects and initiatives.
- Building Stakeholder Relationships: Built and maintained productive relationships with a wide range of internal and external stakeholders — media, commercial, technology, agency and community — balancing competing priorities to reach shared outcomes.
- Integrated Campaign Delivery: Planned, coordinated and delivered integrated marketing, communications and campaign initiatives with measurable outcomes — audience growth, engagement, conversion and revenue.
- Content & Events: Experienced producing content (written, video, photography) and coordinating marketing and communications for events, launches and campaigns across digital and traditional channels.
